

Project funded by the EUROPEAN UNION

OUTPUT 4.2-1

4.2-1 Successful decentralized composting models Database
WP	4. Definition of the general management model
Coordinator	Beneficiary
Sub-Activity	4.2. Analysis of successful management models related to the Project objective (waste collection, treatment, compost uses)
Description of the tasks	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> -Analysis of experiences related to the project: commercial waste collections, waste management in tourist areas, biowaste composting in mini-compost plants, management of farm composting plants, other biological treatments at a small scale, compost marketing and sale, monitoring, etc. - Elaboration of a Database gathering successful management models. - Identification of key elements to ensure a successful implementation of the project.
Action Plan Period	April-July 2013
Name of the Output	4.2-1 Successful decentralized composting models Database
Date of the delivery	10 first cases '10/07/2013. 4 new cases '15/09/2014
PP involved	Beneficiary and Technical Expert
Description of the Output	Creation of a Database about different decentralized composting models with good results and functioning. The Output consists in 14 records with detailed technical and economical information about collection and specially treatment systems.
Objectives of the Output	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> -To collect information about other successful models to elaborate the SCOW general model in the framework of the Sub-Act. 4.3. -To provide to all the PP with information about this kind of decentralized composting models to define the proposal for their territories.
Remarks	The Database will be opened to add additional similar cases, including if they come from a petition and information provided from external entities to SCOW project.
Communication/Capitalization actions	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> -Available on SCOW website for all the public. -Distribution of the link and informative note to PP and Associates. -Distribution of the link and informative note to other entities according to the SCOW Capitalization Plan.